

Soli Deo Gloria

MUSIC AT CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
SUNDAY AFTERNOONS AT 4PM

MARCH 10 – The Redeemer University Concert Choir
under Dr. Christiaan Teeuwsen Anglican evensong

MARCH 17 – Violinist Nakwon Choi and pianist Winston Au

MARCH 24 – Flutist Sara Traficante

MARCH 31 – The Choir of Central Presbyterian Church
under Dr. Roger Bergs Survey of Psalm Singing

APRIL 7 – Soprano Christina Austin and Baritone Johnathan Kirby with pianist Roger Bergs

APRIL 14 – Clarinetist Stephen Pierre leads an ensemble of singers and instrumentalists in a vespers service featuring low-church music of the English Restoration

Admission is free. Donations gladly accepted.

Soli Deo Gloria (or SDG) – to God alone be the Glory – was the inscription that J.S. Bach placed on the manuscript of every piece – sacred or secular – that he composed. He believed that “the final aim and reason of all music is nothing other than the glorification of God and the refreshment of the spirit.”

Join us for both of these reasons as musicians connected to Central Presbyterian Church share their God-given gifts.

These concerts are free and last under an hour.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
165 CHARLTON AVENUE WEST, HAMILTON
WWW.CPCHAMILTON.CA 905-522-9098